POLAR EXPEDITION.

A fact worth mention is the projected ball on voyage to the North Pole by Herr Andree. Notice has been sent of the aerial expedition to governments whose provinces underlie the route to be followed. The Royal Geographical Society is co-operating with the Swedish mission in London, as far as stations of observation in the Dominion of Canada are concerned. This method of overcoming natural obstacles, appears, from the long list of memorable failures, the only one leading out a prospect of success. Mankind is a queer creature—very. He will starve, thirst, burn, freeze, endure every species of privation cheerfully—die—but he never, never will desist until he sees, touches, measures, the axis upon which his world goes round.

It is not generally known that Canada has made an excellent beginning in what promises to develop into a large trade in horses with France. A paragraph in the Colonies and India reads: "Canadian horses are apparently becoming popular in France. It is stated in Figaro that no less than 7,000 have been imported in the last two years, either direct or by way of England, and included in the number are nearly a thousand re-mounts for military purposes. This should be an object lesson for our war office authorities. The intention is to endeavor to develop the trade, and, strange to say, the initiative comes from France and not from England."—Free Press.

LITTLE things become great when a lord is in question. Lord Brassey has been visiting Tasmania. His yacht got aground. Mention might be made of any common person's yacht getting aground, but there would not be the additional honor of having it said of the occasion that the vessel and all hands were in danger of being lost. Then his lordship got a cinder in his eye, which a Hobart doctor managed to extract. Next, he and the Chief Justice, in making a short cut across the ploughed fields in visiting Mount Wellington, got lost. We have to thank the happy circumstance that at the victim of these tremendous events is a lord for the fact that intelligence of them has reached all the way from Tasmania to Manitoba.—Free Press.

A MONTREAL dispatch to the Winnipeg Tribune says: "Mr. Tarte has been jutting down his impressions during his recent visit to Smith's Falls. He says Smith's Falls has no separate schools, the Catholics and Protestants sending their children to the same schools. The only religious instruction is the recital of the Lord's Prayer every morning at the opening of the school. The instruction given in these schools is of a very superior character, and there is no friction between the Catholics and Protestants."

Vernon Views.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
This is an old settlement under a new name, being the district surrounding the farm owned for some time by Mr. Howden, and purchased about a year ago by Mr. William Goodwin Cooper.

Lately our young people have been more enterprising than heretofore, having held a meeting a couple of weeks ago to name the district (presumably school district) and also to inaugurate a football club. This meeting decided to send for ball, etc., at once, and the club is now in full swing with a members' roll of 20. The office-bearers are: Patron, G.H.V. Bulvey, Esq., M.L.A.; President, W. G. Cooper, Esq.; Vice-President, W. Cooper, Jr.; Captain, Arthur Miles; Vice-Captain, W. Wass; Sec.-Treas., T. Howden. The days for practice are Wednesday and Saturday afternoons.

We are rather a happy lot out here and now that L. is out, have again commenced tipping it on the light fantastic, with a very enjoyable dance at the residence of Mr. A. S. Miles.

Mr. A. E. Parrot, just returned from the Old Country and looking exceedingly well, has been visiting among us for the past few days and has now returned to the Yellow Grass country.

Our neighbor, Mr. Evans, is at present on the shelf with a lame back, but we hope to see him walking round as usual in a short time.

We are sorry to learn that master Bertie Fessant dislocated his ankle a few days ago, his horse having fallen on him while riding across country.

Lottie Lippings.

From our local correspondent.
Dain Rimmer says our wholesale merchant is likely to remove his extensive stock north, the people in the vicinity of Devil's Lake having offered a bonus for a store to be built in their midst. We hope this is not so, as Lottie would sustain a severe loss if he leaves it; being its chief press representative and leading townsman.

We understand that this community will be called upon shortly to petition for the appointment of a justice of the peace. It is hoped a man of ability and good sense, like our last one, will be appointed.

A very curious specimen of a salmon-colored fish, tipping the scale at 181 lbs., is now on exhibition at our local store. It was imported here from Clinton, Ont.

The dog has been flying at full mast for the last few days on the court house, in honor of the latest literary production of our Grenfell Sun correspondent.

The mild weather has made some of our boys shed their heavy clothing and don light ones, the good old military uniform being laid aside for awhile.

We are pleased to be able to state that Mr. D. J. Cantelon is now on the improve, he not having to go east as at first was thought necessary.

The farmers are getting out their drills and getting them in shape for business. Some teams are to be seen working already.

Stock have come out in fine condition in this locality, a number having been stall-fed for the early market.

School opened in the Foster school district April 1. Mr. Dawson, of Regina, is the teacher.

Quite a lot of snow and rain fell here on the 29th and 30th March making things a little muddy.

Miss Burton, who has been visiting her friends in Pheasant Forks, has returned.

Mr. W. Balfour, of Balcarres, paid this place a flying visit recently.

Mr. Rickard passed through here recently en route for Beaver Hills.

BURNT TO DEATH

The Four-Year-Old Son of Mr. Philip Keefer Falls Victim To the Fire.

Yesterday forenoon our citizens were shocked to hear of the awful death by fire of the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Keefer, who reside in the German settlement, a few miles northwest of town. It seems that Mr. Keefer left home in the morning to come to town, leaving his wife and child at home, and Mrs. Keefer, having occasion to go to a neighbor's some distance away, left the little boy at play in the house, never thinking of danger. Soon after she returned, and on entering the house was horrified to find the charred remains of what a few moments before had been a living, prattling child, his clothes in some manner having caught fire. Word was sent to the father in town who hurried home only to find the news too true.

The bereaved parents have the sympathy of all in their sad affliction.

Mrs. P. Ferguson Dead.

The sudden demise of Mrs. Peter Ferguson, Pleasant Plains, from uremia, which had even occurred on the 6th inst., has cast a sorrowful gloom over the entire community. Deceased was highly esteemed for her genial disposition and Christian deportment by all who knew her. Her hospitality and kindly attention to the weary and hungry traveler has been known far and near. As a mother, she was an honor to her family, a bright and shining ornament to the Christian religion. The family consists of five girls, the oldest of whom is about 18 years of age, and two boys. The sympathy of the community at large is extended to Mr. Ferguson and family in their sad bereavement. Her mortal remains were interred in the Roman cemetery on the 8th inst. Of the deceased it can truly be said that a great and good woman has this day fallen in the municipality of Indian Head.

Football.

A very interesting and exciting football match, between the East and West sides (of Main Street), took place on Friday afternoon last, and was witnessed by a large number of spectators. Much interest had been aroused by this match, as the teams were considered of almost equal strength, and a hot game was expected, but, unfortunately for the east side, their team was somewhat weakened by the absence of several of their best men.

Shortly after 4 o'clock the ball was kicked off, and after four minutes sharp play, Wilson, of the East side, scored from a clever pass by Bailey; this was their first and last goal. When the sphere was again set in motion, the West pulled themselves together, and A. McBrine, who was playing his usual remarkable game, ably supported by R. H. Baird and J. Sargent, scored the first goal for the West side. After this the game was virtually in favor of the West side, as they rapidly scored four more goals, and at the call of time the score stood, West, 5; East, 1. It is to be hoped that a return match will be arranged very soon, as it is only by practice that perfection may be obtained.

Give the devil his due, of course, but try and not owe him any more than is absolutely necessary. WEDDING BELLS.

SPEERLING-HENLEY.

The marriage of Mr. A. H. B. Speerling to Miss A. C. Henley, eldest daughter of Mr. Wm. Henley, took place yesterday afternoon at St. Peter's cathedral, Rev. J. P. Sargent officiating. The Progress representative arrived rather late and in consequence of the number present, the church being crowded, a very imperfect view was obtained. The bride was given away by her father, Rev. Mr. Brown, Regina, assisted the groom, and the bridesmaid were the bride's two little sisters, who looked very nice dressed in blue. The bride was attired in white, with orange blossoms, and looked all that a bride should. At the conclusion of the service, the wedding march was very nicely played by Mr. Barford, and after the register being signed, the newly married couple drove to the residence of Mr. W. Henley.

Obedient Orders.

A theatrical manager had printed a number of costly lithographs of leading actors of the scenes.

He called a stage attendant, and ordered him to place them in the "foyer." On entering the theatre in the evening he noticed that the lithographs were not visible. He immediately hunted up the attendant and asked him where they were. "Burnt them, sir," said the attendant. "Burnt them, you idiot? What did you do that for?" "Because ye told me to," was the reply, in an injured tone. "I didn't tell you to burn them," the manager said, impatiently. "Faith, sir, ye did. I told me to put them in the foyer, and I went right off and put them in the stove-bayant."

Killing a Paper.

An exchange says: "Here are some good instructions for killing a newspaper: Just let your subscription go. If you are a subscriber, the publisher doesn't need it. If he asks you for it, get just as mad as you can, and tell him to stop the paper—you never read it, say so. Then go and burn your newspaper. When the reporter comes for news always be busy doing something else. If he is too busy to stop, tell him you are busy. When the advertising agent comes, tell him you don't need a testimonial—everybody knows you; that you will try and get along without any printed testimony—no testimonial, no business is asked, and you must economize. Never stop in to see the editor, unless you want a free copy of a monthly notice, or a lengthy obituary for a beloved relative. Never recommend the paper to anybody. When you speak of it, always say, 'Yes, we have a little sheet but it doesn't amount to much.' Keep this up for a year or two, and you will have a dead newspaper, a dead set of merchants, and a dead town."

Horse Points.

A white spot on the forehead is a star.
A stripe between the nostrils is a snip.
A white eye is a glaze eye.
The sooner the dot is made to follow the halter the easier will be to manage ever after.
It is a pretty generally accepted fact that a horse that is a small eater does not usually amount to much.
A horse that has a hind foot, or three is no such point as a hind heel, or fore-shoulder.
White below the pastern joint is white pastern. Above the pastern, white leg. White around the top of the hoof, a white coronet.
A star, blaze or bald face can't be any where except on the face. A snip can't be any where except on the nose—Exchange.

An Arkansas editor has let himself out in this fashion: "You may have all the stars in a nail keg, hang the ocean on a rail fence to dry, put the sky in a gourd to soak, unbuckle the belly band of eternity, let out the sun and moon, but never delude yourself with the idea that you can escape the place on the other side of purgatory unless you pay the printer."

The Old Flag Again Called to the Rescue.

To the Editor of The Progress:
SIR—My sympathies were rather enlisted on behalf of the author of the communication in your issue of last week, signed "Edgeley Conservative," "Dummy," to whom he pretends to reply, is evidently too many for him, so he simply indulges in a pitiful wail to those backsliding Conservatives, who have gone to swell the Patron ranks, to rally round the old flag once more and stand to the party who have done so much for this country through the medium of the grand old National Policy.

Our Edgeley friend goes on to enlighten us on the following points: "The Patrons are Grits in disguise, and the Grits were never the friends of the Northwest;" the natural deduction being that the Patrons (or independent farmers) of this country, are its worst enemies.

Here is another of this eminent writer's brilliant gems: "The N. P. protects all our products, and at the same time is dead against monopolies." It was common enough to meet with men holding these and similar views as to the beneficial results of the N. P., say ten or twelve years ago, but the stern logic of events and dear-bought experience have so changed the mind of the thinking public that specimens of that ilk are extremely rare, indeed, nowadays. I shall not attempt to reason with your Edgeley correspondent. If he is a resident farmer in the Northwest and still adheres to these long since exploded ideas as to the N. P., then his case may be looked upon as hopeless indeed.

"Edgeley Conservative" wishes to "talk" to himself, he will "talk" to himself, in politics. Should he, however, persist in that direction, might I request him, as a favor, to let up for once on that old flag yarn, and give us some substantial reasons why we should support the present combination at Ottawa, who, when not occupied in bleeding the public treasury through such deals as the Curran bridge and Tay canal, are engaged in internal dissensions concerning who shall be premier and the best method to catch the Quebec vote at the coming contest.

He might also inform us as to how we are to reconcile the actions of a true patriot and statesman with the miserable, shuffling, face-both-ways policy of the Conservative standard-bearer in this constituency, Nicholas Flood Davin.

ONE WHO INTENDS TO VOTE
PATRONS.
Abernethy, April 2.

To the Editor of The Progress:
SIR—In a large issue of your paper, I notice a letter from J. H. Blair, of Melton. I would be the first to admit, be it said, and I would not be a coward of impending danger. Now, gentlemen, when you have a lot of gold to back such a high claim, to say to you, you should know that his authority extends to that of your postmaster general, for he can close his office any day in the week or any hour in the day, and let your farm go for three or four miles and return without their mail. If they have a letter to post they can carry it home again, no one they have a stamp in their pocket, in that case they can put it on the door or through a crack in the wall (I believe there is a hole in the wall for that purpose); and then, again, is he not a mail contractor—one of those privileged sort, you know, who can hang Mr. McJannet's mail on a post and go where he pleases? For then he cannot miss the train and the incoming mail can lay by the roadside until it suits him to come back, or come forwardly unannounced along and pick it up, or come at his leisure. I cannot give you their names for they are legion, as any tramp that comes along to stop for a day or two is put on the staff right away. We think if they were legally appointed the J. P.'s income would be that of the P. M., and for private security we would mention them. Now, ye long-suffering, slow-witted Municipalities of South Qu'Appelle, how long will ye bear the burden of mismanagement put on you by a commission and a post office? But I suppose when you are smitten on the one cheek you will turn the other so as to fulfil the scriptures. I just tell you this, Messrs. Commissioners, who has been humiliated to leave the public for $10 per annum, you that have to deal with, and even to pay you if you ask him for any more taxes, your grey hairs will not protect you. What you can do is this, tick it on to our neighbors, they won't know the difference. Let J. H. and myself go free and we will hang up to your heart's content. Remember, I will be after ye again, if J. H. says so.

QU'APPELLE PROGRESS.

Thursday, April 9, 1896.

POLITICAL POT PURI.

THE GENERAL ELECTIONS.

Nominations—Movement of Ministers.

Hon. Dr. Montague is still in the old country.

Lord Dufferin expresses a desire to retire to private life.

Lieutenant-Governor Mackintosh has again returned to Regina.

The Ottawa parliament will not transact business after April 25th.

John Wallie has been nominated in the Liberal interest by Halton Reformers.

Mr. Macdonald, Conservative, will have a local man as an opponent in Saskatchewan.

Mr. Oliver, Liberal, and Lieut. Col. Macdonald, Conservative, are still the candidates in Alberta.

It is stated that Hon. W. Laurier will not stand for Saskatchewan in the coming Dominion elections.

It is said that Mr. Neff, M.L.A., would not accept the nomination for Eastern Assiniboia if offered him.

Mr. S. T. Clarke, of the Queen's hotel, Calgary, announced that he will be a candidate at the next Dominion election.

Mr. E. L. Richardson, of the Winnipeg Tribune, has been selected Liberal standard bearer for Assiniboia in the coming Dominion contest.

Hon. T. M. Daly says he will stand for his present constituency and expects to be elected. C. Cliffe, says he will certainly oppose him.

Mr. Tarte is responsible for the rumor that Sir Oliver Mowat will be Mr. Laurier's lieutenant in Ontario and Mr. Fielding in Nova Scotia.

In view of the retirement of Mr. Jos. Martin, the names of Mr. Isaac Campbell and Hon. J. D. Cameron are spoken of as Liberal nominees for Winnipeg.

In a letter received from Mr. Joseph Martin, M.P., from Ottawa by a personal friend in Winnipeg, that gentleman confirmed the truth of the dispatch stating it was his intention to resign at the close of the present session.

The Conservatives of Winnipeg are still hopeful of prevailing upon Mr. Hugh John Macdonald to be their standard bearer at the approaching elections.

Should he positively decline it is possible that Mayor Jameson may run.

It is stated that the Dominion elections will take place on or about Thursday, 27th June, and parliament will be called together again in July to pass the estimates and finish up other public business that will go over from this session.

The Medicine Hat News says it is authorized to state that in consequence of the pressure brought to bear upon him by his numerous friends, Mr. Thomas Stone has consented to become a candidate for Alberta at the forthcoming Dominion elections.

In an editorial on the general elections, the Gazette says that it is the duty of the government to make the party of Dominion uncertainty as short as possible. Writs should be issued the day parliament dissolves, and the beginning of June should see the new parliament elected.

REMEDIAL BILL VOTE.

The Vote on the Second Reading Amended.

The Hamilton Spectator (Conservative) has made an analysis of the vote on the second reading of the remedial bill, showing that 100 Conservatives and 1 Liberal voted for the bill, while 1 Liberal, 1 Conservative and 1 Independent voted against it. It will be seen that the Conservatives given a majority of 11 for the bill, and the government could have carried the second reading without any assistance from the enemy. The government's majority exclusively is 11, and over and the Liberal and Independent, 11.

The vote by provinces shows some figures which, in view of the coming elections, will make an interesting study. The vote was:

	For.	Against.
Ontario	35	52
Quebec	32	29
New Brunswick	16	5
Manitoba	12	3
Prince Edward Island	1	1
British Columbia	6	0
Northwest Territories	4	0

It will be noted that Ontario was strongly against it, and that Quebec, with all the power of the hierarchy exercised to force the vote in favor of the bill, gave a majority of only 3 in its favor. New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, in which province, the government claims, the Manitoba school question exists very little, voted strong for the act. The old thing about the vote was the attitude of the western provinces. With the exception of one Manitoba member, Martin, every vote west of Ontario went with the government. It is nonsense to suppose that that represents the sentiment of the people of Manitoba, the Northwest Territories and British Columbia.

We leave the gentle reader to get any other information out of the figures which he may desire. The figures don't lie about what has already been done, but they may be terribly misleading in respect to what is to be done in the future.

Not Going Back.

Prompted from reports from London that efforts are being made to induce Ballington Booth to become once more head of the Salvation Army in the U.S., Ballington Booth has authorized the following statement to be published:

"Commander and Mrs. Booth will not for a moment consider any proposition whatever made to them by the international headquarters of the Salvation Army through their representatives.

While Commander Booth will not refuse to see his sister-in-law, neither will he and Mrs. Booth be positively and finally determined to enter into no discussion and listen to no proposition concerning the consideration of their position. Their steps were taken definitely and prayerfully at the Cooper Union meeting two weeks ago, committed themselves to the starting of a new movement, and no advances whatsoever will lead either of them, or the others who are at their side, to depart from the declaration they have made. Intentional headquarters is perfectly well aware of the reasons which underlie the whole question and made it impossible for Commander and Mrs. Booth to continue under their orders."

BETRAYED HIS PALS.

A Daring Attempt to Hold Up a Train Followed by One of the Gang.

Two officers were shot and a train robber named Daniel McCole, killed in an attempt to hold up the south bound New Orleans express near Tulare, Cal., a few days ago. The attempted robbery was one of the most daring that has taken place in California and probably would have succeeded if it had not been for one of the would be robbers. Officers in Tulare were informed that an attempt would be made to hold up the sunset limited. The man who gave this information gave details of the plan, and said at first he intended to take part in the robbery. Under Sheriff Earl Daggett and Constable Reed, armed with shot guns, went to the place where the robbery was to take place, and awaited the approach of the robbers. The robbers changed their plans, however, and decided to hold up the New Orleans express. Three bandits boarded the train at Selma, climbing on the rear baggage car and the other one on the tender. As the train pulled out of Goheen the robbers who had betrayed his companions, left the train without their knowledge and rushed into the telegraph office and told the night operator to tell the sheriff's party the robbers had changed their plans. Officers hastened back to meet the train and boarded an engine at Targum. The robbers did not intend to make their presence known until after the train had pulled out from the station, but the officers saw their men and opened fire. The bandits turned the volume of their firing, and a volley of shot which would have probably proved fatal, Constable Reed was shot in the shoulder. McCole, who is believed to be one of the Dalton gang was killed. The other robbers escaped.

FIVE MEN MEET DEATH.

Details of a Fatal Accident in the Central Star Mine, Rosedale, B. C.

A Rosedale, B.C. special of March 11, says: One of the most disastrous accidents in the history of British Columbia precious metal mining occurred at the Central Star mine, here a few days ago. As a result of the explosion of two boxes of giant powder, four men are dead and two more are seriously hurt that they will probably die. Two boxes of gunpowder were being thawed out in hot water. The only man who knew where it became ignited, lies at the point of death in the hospital. He came running out of the tunnel crying "the powder is on fire," but before he could reach a place of safety the explosion occurred. Eight men were working in the mine and only two escaped death or serious injury. The dead are:

Thos. Gibbons, married.

Mike Havigan, single.

Joseph Dolan, single.

Edward Lant single.

Ed. Shanahan, single.

Mike Brooks, single, was injured.

M. McClements and Collins, are the two who escaped.

The air pipes from the compressor were torn out at the place of the explosion and it was nearly an hour before the mine could be cleared of gas so that men could go to the rescue. Gibbons and Lynch were dead before aid reached them, evidently having been killed by concussion. Lant, McClements and Dolan were asphyxiated.

RICH IN GOLD.

The Output at Mann's Mines, in the Kootenay, is $2,600 Per Day.

D. Mann arrived from the east on Wednesday evening and will spend a few days in the city. Regarding his Kootenay mines, Mr. Mann says the output has been worth in the gross about $2,600 per day. What percentage of profit this leaves the producer he declined to say, though rumor has it that the profit will be from $100 to $400 per day. On the matter of the Dampin railway, he declined to talk, as that matter was wholly in the charge of Mr. Mackenzie, who is at present in England. Nothing in the way of construction can be done until Mr. Mackenzie returns, which will be about the middle of April. He had heard nothing of the road securing the Dominion subsidies for the H. B. R., as well as the aid granted by the local government, and thought that the two roads would remain distinct. Meers, Foley and Grant still have the contract, and so far as he knew, the $100,000 per year offered by the Dominion government could not be granted to a road running on the west side of Lake Dampin. In all this matter, however, Mr. Mann refuses to be quoted as an authority, as he has not given it any attention, but Mackenzie is having the railway in charge—Winnipeg Tribune.

HUDSON BAY EXPLORATION.

Probability That Something Will Be Done This Year.

The Free Press Ottawa correspondent wires as follows:

Premier Bowell has informed the senate that it is not the intention of the government to send a steamer to Hudson Bay this year. That may be the present decision, but that decision is subject to revision and it is possible that the proposal of the minister of marine and fisheries may yet be carried out. A British steamship company whose directors believe that the Hudson Straits can be navigated without difficulty at any season of the year, have offered to place one of their ships at the disposal of the government at a reasonable cost, and this offer will be considered, the only obstacle in the way of accepting it being the securing of an appropriation for the expenses that will be involved. When a ship is sent to the Bay it will go there in permanent service to protect fisheries and enforce customs regulations; and while performing this service observations to the conditions of navigation will be taken. At the Manitoba and Northwest members are in favor of a ship being sent out as soon as possible.

A Remarkable Occurrence.

A special to the Kansas Times from Guthrie, O., says: News of the most remarkable occurrence has been received here from Beaver county. At the little postoffice town of Grand, the Baptist congregation were building a handsome church, surrounded by a spire seven feet high, lanterned. Ford and Harry Somers, painters, were employed to cill and paint the spire. Saturday while giving the finishing touches to the top of the spire a thunder storm came upon them, accompanied by fierce flashes of lightning. After a terrific clap of thunder a blinding flash of lightning struck the spire, knocking away the painters' scaffolding, splitting the spire and leaving Somers and Ford on the roof dead. The celling of the two was ignited by the flash and for ten minutes the bodies were seen burning and smoking in mid-air. The rain finally extinguished the flames. Three hours later the remains of the painters were brought down, charred and almost unrecognizable.

THE LAND OF EVANGELINE.

ONE OF THE MOST ROMANTIC SPOTS IN CANADA.

But it is no more free from the hills to which flesh is heir than Lee-Paved Localities—An Account of a Strange Locality From Which a Gaspreux Farmer Suffered.

From the Acadia, Wolfville, N. S.

Perhaps there is no more beautiful or picturesque spot in Nova Scotia than the valley of Gaspreux, in the "Land of Evangeline." Winding its way through the centre of the valley is a beautiful little river, which nestles at the foot of the mountains which rise on either side to the height of hundreds of feet, is the romantic looking little village of Gaspreux. About two and a half miles from the village resides Mr. Fred J. Fielding, one of the most thrifty farmers in this section of the country. Your correspondent called upon him and found a very genial, intelligent and apparently a very healthy looking man, far from being a local Gaspreux, as he was called in our question Mr. Fielding said: "Yes, I was very near to death's door at one time, but thank God I am a new man to-day. You see, he went on, that pump in the kitchen, beneath a well about 10 feet deep, which was the cause, I think of all my illness. I went down last fall (1894) to clean it out and was only a short time at the bottom, when I took with a severe pain at the back of my head, and a burning sensation in my throat and lungs, such as caused by the inhalation of brimstone. A sort of stupor was gradually coming over me when by a high effort I succeeded in regaining the kitchen once more. A lighted lamp lay down became extinguished, showing the accumulation of gas had caused the trouble. The pain at the back of my head continued to trouble me and one day while working in a back field I suddenly lost the use of my left eye, right arm and left leg. At times I could not speak but towards evening I began to talk again. The next day at about the same time I was seized again in the same manner. I now called in our family physician who told me that a blood vessel had burst in the back of my head. He left me no medicine. The only man who knew where the pump was I continued to feel miserable. About two months after this second attack while sitting in the postoffice of the village, I was suddenly seized again and getting my horse and wagon started for home I lost my footing and fell. The lines dropped from my right hand and I again found myself blind in my right eye and the right arm and left leg paralyzed. The horses now carried me home, but passed the house in the direction of the barn. My wife thinking I had gone on to the barn paid no attention for perhaps 15 minutes, when she sent one of the children to see what was keeping me. At this time I was unable to speak and had to be assisted into the house. Before long I began to recover somewhat and felt fairly well the next morning, but was again seized during the day in the same manner, and the report reached the village that I was dead. Neighbors came flocking out expecting that it was true. As the medicine I had tried seemed to do no good, I now began to feel that I was in a bad way. I was told by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and by the time I had used six boxes the pain had left my head and I felt as good as new. I now ceased using them for about a month, when I thought I felt a recurrence of the pain at the back of my head. I again sent and got three more boxes and used them. It is now about five months since I used the last pill, and I have never had a recurrence of the attack, besides I feel myself a new man. I am now 50 years of age, and have always worked on a farm, and never enjoyed work better than last summer and autumn, and am positive Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cured me. I now always keep them in my house and when my wife or children have any sickness our first resort is to this medicine and always with the very best results.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are offered with a confidence that they are the only perfect and unfailing blood purifier and nerve restorer, and when given a trial, disease and suffering must vanish. Sold by all dealers or sent by mail on receipt of 50 cents a box or $2.50 for six boxes by adding the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N. Y. Beware of imitations and get the genuine substitutes alleged to be "just as good."

A Lynching in Tennessee.

A mob took William Murphy from the jail at Huntsville, Tenn., the other morning and strung him to a tree. The villagers knew nothing of it until the body was found hanging to a horse fence in the morning. William Murphy was in jail waiting trial for the murder of Bill Smith, a miner, three weeks ago at Pomeroy, in Campbell county, who had admitted Scott county in which the lynching occurred. Thirty mountaineers with handkerchiefs over their faces, did the lynching. The leader wore no disguise but seemed to be a stranger. He knelt at the door, and C. E. Cliffe, representing he was a deputy sheriff with a prisoner he wanted to look up. As the jailer opened the door he was covered with a large army pistol and the keys demanded. He refused to surrender the keys. The mountaineers drew revolvers on the jailer's frightened wife and daughter and they got the keys and gave them to the mob. Murphy was found praying for mercy. He begged hard for life, but if they would kill him, he begged not to be dragged out of his cell. With regard to the young lady who is alleged to be threatened, the council says: "We find his conduct to have violated the rules which should control the action of a gentleman and a Christian minister, and we reserve him for it, which we will recognize the kindly and manly words of appreciation and repatriation offered by him to the young lady in our presence." The council says Dr. Brown's explanation of the payment of money to Mrs. Davidson is unsatisfactory, but there is not a trace of suspicion in the minds of the council concerning the hitherto stainless reputation of Dr. Brown. Rev. Dr. Brown and friends consider the verdict a complete vindication.

Completely Exonerated.

Rev. Dr. Brown, of San Francisco, has been acquitted of charges of infidelity and immoral conduct. The church council excused Dr. Brown's action after the charges had been made public on account of his quick temper. With regard to the young lady who is alleged to be threatened, the council says: "We find his conduct to have violated the rules which should control the action of a gentleman and a Christian minister, and we reserve him for it, which we will recognize the kindly and manly words of appreciation and repatriation offered by him to the young lady in our presence." The council says Dr. Brown's explanation of the payment of money to Mrs. Davidson is unsatisfactory, but there is not a trace of suspicion in the minds of the council concerning the hitherto stainless reputation of Dr. Brown. Rev. Dr. Brown and friends consider the verdict a complete vindication.

TO EXCLUDE FOREIGN CATTLE.

The Bill has Passed its Second Reading in the English Commons.

During the discussion in the English house of commons of the second reading of the bill introduced by Mr. Walter Long, the president of the board of agriculture, providing for the permanent exclusion of foreign bred cattle, Mr. J. Martin White, Liberal, member for Forfarshire, and a merchant of New York City, Mr. E. J. Price, Liberal member of East Norfolk, the Right Hon. Sir George Trevelyan, Liberal member for the Bridgetown division of Glasgow, and former secretary of state for Scotland, and others opposed the measure, urged that there was no danger in the importation of cattle, and claiming the passage of the bill would seriously injure stock raisers.

Mr. Long in reply said that the bill was only intended to give the security necessary to the farmers. Disease, he explained, remained latent for a long time. Only recently there was an outbreak of pleuro-pneumonia in England, and a whole herd had to be killed. Continuing, Mr. Long said that at a case in 1892, which was only discovered by accident, the country lost $150,000 ($750,000) and it occurred in spite of the examination made at the point of entry. The government did not desire to do anything which would be regarded as offensive or unfriendly to so loyal and splendid a colony as Canada, and Mr. Long denied that there was intended for protection, except against disease.

Right Hon. A. J. Mundella, Radical member for Sheffield, and president of the board of trade in the former Liberal ministry, thought that it would become necessary to exclude Canada from the operation of the bill.

Mr. A. J. Balfour, the government leader, spoke in favor of the bill, repeating the points in the argument made by Mr. Long, its author.

The London Times read a second time, receiving 211 votes.

Following upon the discussion of the bill, papers were issued by the government relating to the importation of cattle. The board of husbandry, writing to Mr. Chamberlain, secretary of state for the colonies, on March 18th, repeat their opinion that the proposals contained in Mr. Long's bill, are more likely to prejudice the development of the Canadian trade than they have trade in cattle from the United States.

The London Times has an editorial in which it admits that parliament is justified in fully debating Mr. Long's bill to perpetuate the restrictions on the importation of Canadian cattle. "The debate has shown, however," the Times adds, "that Mr. Long was not unopposed, and arguments which are difficult to resist."

That the importation of Canadian cattle is on the increase is gathered from statistics recently published. During 1895, 10,000 head of cattle and 12,000 sheep landed at British ports. The total for the previous nine years was 77,000 cattle and 119,500 sheep.

Advantages of Reciprocity.

A Washington dispatch says: Letters from persons interested in the re-enactment of reciprocity laws are being received in large numbers by the subcommittee of the ways and means committee on reciprocity and commercial treaties. A communication from the national association of manufacturers, signed by its president, Theodore C. Search, of Philadelphia, is headed by the subcommittee of the ways and means committee on reciprocity and commercial treaties. Speaking for the interests represented by the association, Mr. Search presents arguments bearing upon the advantages of reciprocity as a principle in international trade. He mentions Canada as a particular instance of the most important of the mutual favorable reciprocity arrangements might be made. Other replies favoring reciprocity have been received from various sections of the country, the most being from Massachusetts. Among them were many persons interested in manufacturing, carpenters, flour, street car engines, iron, steam generators, linseed oil, nut reeds, silk, harvesters, tricycles, etc. The Cleveland, Ohio, chamber of commerce, New York City commercial association, Milwaukee chamber of commerce and other commercial bodies replied in favor of reciprocity.

QUEEN VICTORIA.

Her Health Becoming Better in the South of France.

The health of Queen Victoria is becoming so much better at Cimiez, in the south of France, where she is at present sojourning that she has arranged to go to the north to attend to the funeral of her granddaughter, Princess Alexandra, to Prince Hohenzollern-Langenburg. The Queen will return to Windsor castle at the end of April. She is said to be somewhat disappointed with her visit from a medical point of view, but she is very grand hotel at Cimiez, where she stayed last year, she had been informed that the chief vicar had been cut off by a big hotel in course of construction, but as her landlord lost money by her visit last year, she, out of kindness, decided to repeat her visit, as this year he had not to carry out the improvements and alterations which last season swept away his margin of profit. The Queen did not understand the extent of the changes in her surroundings until she arrived on the spot. The new hotel is a grand and stands within fifty feet of the Grand hotel, cutting off light as well as views, while the dust and noise of the building operation penetrate the royal apartments.

To Exclude Inadmissible.

The U. S. house committee on immigration have decided to favorably report a bill restricting the measure introduced by Mr. McCall, of Massachusetts, and Mr. W. A. Stone, of Pennsylvania. The bill establishes as a requisite for admission to the United States that the immigrant shall be provided with a certificate from the United States consular or authorized representative of the United States at the place nearest his last residence, that he is eligible to admission to the United States under the existing laws. The McCall bill, as amended by the committee, excludes from admission to the United States persons who are not able to read and write English and some other language. The original bill placed the age limits at 14 and 60, and applied to both sexes. The omission of females from its provisions was decided upon to prevent the separation of families.

Breach of Promise.

Miss Nellie Hannah Clyde, of Reach, who used Joseph Hodgson of Whithby township, in whose family she was employed as a servant in 1891, for breach of promise at the last session and got $100 damages, but he brought an objection of the judge's ruling to have a new trial was recently awarded $475 and she pays her own costs. He denied he proposed marriage. She positively swore to the proposal of marriage. Before, at his suggestion, they started for Toronto to get married. At the station before they left, he said he would put the horse in a neighbor barn, and did not return, and left her to return home, five miles, alone.

A NOBLE UNREST.

How the Talent and Pluck of Miss Mosher Was Awarded.

There was a pathetic scene at the annual oratorical contest of the Ladies Literary Union in the Hillsdale college, Michigan, the other night. Six of the brightest and most popular coeds, all members of the Kappa Kappa Gamma, had set their hearts on the Maggie Ambler prize. Misses Zoe Smith, Jessie Mosher, Cora Twitwell, Emily Sage, Grace Dorey and Zella Sands, were so evenly matched that many good natured bets were made among the boys that no one could tell where the prize would fall. Miss Mosher, daughter of the president of the college, competed for the prize last year and secured second place. Determined to win this time she put her whole heart into the delivery of "A Noble Unrest." In the middle of the oration she stopped. She had forgotten. A hush fell on the audience. A physician present took out his watch and watched her stand like a statue for fully three minutes, till with burning face she turned to leave the stage reeled and fell. "Jack" Robinson the big center rush of Hillsdale, caught her in his arms and bore her to the stage to the door. In the hush that followed she partly revived from the swoon, and raising herself on the big senior's shoulders, as he carried her to the door, she struggled to finish her oration, speaking slowly in an unnatural voice with closed eyes.

The excitement was so intense that several other girls had fainted and one member of the Ladies' Glee Club was carried senseless to the open air. The contest did not end in a tragical attack of hysterics. But the next speaker, still in the sympathy and march to the platform, to give an oration that made the crowd ring with applause.

After the last oration had been delivered and the judges were about to retire to decide on a most perplexing lot of circumstances another fell on the audience. Up the aisle walked the president's daughter again, supported by her mother. Taking her place on the stage, she picked up the oration where she left off and finished in the most triumphant burst of applause that ever shook the old Hillsdale halls.

She walked calmly off, only to be carried out in another swoon from the effects of the terrible strain. She was not present to hear the decision of the judges, and the ringing cheers which greeted it, for everyone missed the pluck and the most remarkable contest ever held in Hillsdale closed by the awarding of the first prize to Jessie Mosher for her oration on "A Noble Unrest."

AGAIN FRIENDLY.

England and the U. S. are Now on Better Terms.

No denial is made in official circles in Washington of the fact that direct negotiations with Great Britain respecting the Venezuelan boundary dispute have been resumed by our state department at the point where they were left by the exchange of the note of Secretary Olney and Lord Salisbury of last July and last November respectively. Lord Salisbury had the last word according to the published correspondence and the sending of the special message to congress by President Cleveland had the effect of delaying a response to Lord Salisbury's note, but did not relieve our state department of the necessity of fulfilling the obligation to reply eventually. It is believed that not only had this response been made, but other exchanges have followed principally through the medium of Ambassador Gresham, and that the negotiations are running along in excellent temper with fair prospects of a satisfactory termination. There is a determined refusal to speak of the details of the project now under discussion between the two nations (for there is no reason to believe that Venezuela is being considered every step by our own government), but from a consideration of the positions of Secretary Olney and Lord Salisbury last autumn, it may be fairly surmised that the main effort now is to agree upon some limitation of the extent of the territory to be thrown into arbitration or direct negotiation, and a compromise is looked for between the Schomburgk line, representing the extreme concessions which Great Britain has been willing to make heretofore, and the line of the Gulf of Venezuela, which the latter claims of the Venezuelan government to jurisdiction. It may be assumed with reasonable certainty that once such an agreement is reached as to this limitation of the arbitration, the remainder of arbitrating the title to the disputed tracts, or of adjusting this matter by direct negotiation, while perhaps involving the consumption of much time, will not present particular difficulty or threaten to cause discord.

PRESBYTERIAN MISSIONS.

Sumas voted by the Committee Sumas Sessions at Manitoba College.

At the recent meeting of the committee on Home Missions of the Presbyterian church, in Toronto, it was agreed to recommend that salaries in the Kootenai Presbytery be $1,000 per annum and that the discrimination between married and unmarried missionaries cease.

$24,000 in grants were set aside for work in Ontario, and $10,000 for the Northwest and $10,000 for British Columbia in addition to travelling expenses of students in the Northwest, British Columbia and other remote fields.

A minute of the home missions committee of the synod of Manitoba and the Northwest Territories read referring to the fact that the board of management of Manitoba college contemplated, with the sanction of the assembly, the discontinuance of summer sessions, owing to lack of expected financial support from the synod, and a committee referred to the great benefit derived from the mission work in the Northwest from the summer sessions, and expressed regret at the intimation contained in the minute as seriously affecting home mission work in the Northwest Territories and the Northwest.

The people of Fort Arthur have described by popular vote to let a canal to the Fort Arthur Light and Power company for the putting in of waterworks, a new electric lighting plant, the building of a pulp mill, and furnishing power for the electric street railway. Sixty-two years. This came among other things developed a development of the Carleton river and the York creek water powers, and will land in the centre of the town about 3,000 horse power, easily available for all sorts of industries.

has been placed in the supplementary estimates for the purpose of building a new land and registry office at Regina.
Tenders will be called shortly and it is pleted this year.

mittee, advance $30,000 in three years,
or $10,000 a year, to assist in erecting,

LORNE AND LOUISE.

Anniversary of their Wedding Day.
Recently the Princess Louise, the Marchioness of Lorne, celebrated her 43rd birthday, and the silver anniversary of her wedding to the heir of the house of Argyll. There was, however, no observance of the day in London, either by the firing of guns or the hoisting of flags, as is the practice on the marriage anniversary days of other members of the royal family. At the time of the marriage the young couple gained some popularity because the Princess Louise was the first of the royal children to look for a life-partner elsewhere than among the European courts, and had the Marchioness of Lorne cultivated her opportunities that popularity would have increased and continued to the present time.

He possesses, however, the claim of popularity to a greater degree even than his distinguished father, the present Duke, and consequently may be regarded as a victim of lost opportunities. Outside of the house of commons where he sits as member for Manchester, South, he is seldom heard of and less seen. The couple have no children and the princess has therefore the distinction of being the only daughter or daughter-in-law of the Queen who has failed to contribute to Her Majesty's imposing array of grandchildren.

THE POOR BOY.

Fatal Ending of an Overboard Journey—
Sidney Burrant's Leg Amputated.

Sidney Burrant, a 15-year old boy, was brought into the city on No. 1 express in a terribly mutilated condition, and taken to the General Hospital where he now lies hovering between life and death. He was very much bruised about the face and the left arm, and his leg, which had been sustained a compound fracture. After thoroughly diagnosing the case the physicians found it necessary to amputate the leg. The story is rather a sad one.
Young Burrant left his home at St. Joseph, near Ottawa, in company with his father, Geo. Burrant, and Frank, with a view of walking to Winnipeg, N. W. T. They travellers have a brother and sister and uncle residing. By stopping rules occasionally they reached near Barclay. Here the younger of the two jumped from a moving box car, struck the side of a snow drift and rolled underneath the train, sustaining the terrible injuries which will probably cost him his life, although Dr. Lawrence says there is yet a chance of recovery. The older lad came along from Barclay with his wounded brother and was allowed to sleep at the hospital, but destitute of finances. Nor-

Fish From Manitoba.

John McNab, fisheries inspector, arrived in town yesterday from Shawnigan lake, where he placed a million and a quarter of whitefish fry. Four and a half million of whitefish fry, brought over from Solikirk, Manitoba, have been successfully hatched out in the Fraser river hatchery this spring. Of these two and a half million were placed in Harrison lake, one and a quarter million in Shawnigan lake, and the remainder in the Columbia river. The fry for Shawnigan were taken over from the Fraser on Monday, landing in cans on a tug, and were then moved in spring wagons to the lake, where they reached in such good condition that, as Mr. McNab stated, only some fifty were dead when placed in the lake.
These fish are fresh water, and will be quite an addition to the food fishes of the coast, as they are most delicious.—

The cricket bat that hung in a glass case in the lobby at the Merion cricket club house, Philadelphia which was destroyed by fire a short time ago, had quite a history. The bat was presented to the club by John Thayer, and was a relic of the visit of the first team to England under the auspices of the Merion cricket club. Dr. W. G. Grace, the world renowned cricketer, was at the bat, and was apparently destined to make a long stand, when Thayer, who was triumphant as a fielder, caught him out on a most difficult catch. Dr. Grace, without any formality, immediately walked out into the field and presented him with his bat. This act elicited round after round of applause. Thayer, on his return to this country, presented the bat to his club, and now the members between the fact that it cannot be replaced.

The stereoscopic entertainment given by the Messrs. Bell, in the town hall on Saturday night, and in the Methodist church on Monday night, under the auspices of the Methodist church, was not nearly as well patronized as it deserved. On Saturday night illustrations of the incidents related in the well known story of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" were exhibited, and on Monday night scenes from the well known temperance drama "Ten Nights in a Bar-Room."

Drummer Never Heard of Them Bishop Watterson is so well known in Louisville that the following anecdote, which evidences his keen sense of humor, will be read with interest.

Bishop Watterson is not only the crack fisherman of all the clergy, but the best story teller. The bishop tells a story of how the drummer of the town mistook him (the bishop) for another commercial tourist, and asked him to represent a local house.

"Biggest on earth," said the bishop. "What's the name of the firm?" queried the drummer.

"Lord & Church," replied the imperturbable bishop.

"How? 'Lord & Church?' Never heard of it. Got branch houses anywhere?"

"Branch house all over the world."

"That's queer. Never heard of 'em. Is it boots and shoes?"

"No."

"Hats and caps?"

"Not that either."

"D'y goods, I suppose?"

"Well," said the bishop, "some call it notions."—Louisville Times.

Editor (to printer)—You've ruined me. In describing the great bat I wrote that the famous lecturer on dress wore nothing that was remarkable. You've printed it, "Mrs. B. wore nothing. That was remarkable." Get your money of the cashier and go. We've no use for a man like you around here.

Lady (to Pat, who has just tendered her seat)—You have my sincere thanks, sir. Pat—Not at all, mum; not at all. It's a dooty we owe to the seat. Some folks only does it when a lady be pretty; but I says, says I, "The seat, Pat, not the individual!"
